The G.S. Oursler Farm property (formerly called Dassorri property) is located on the northwest corner of the Branch Avenue (MD Rt. 5) and Surratts Road. The complex consists of eight buildings and one structure with construction dates ranging from the late nineteenth century through the middle twentieth century. The agricultural buildings include a tobacco and livestock barn, two hog sheds, corn crib, hay barn and silo. Additional agricultural buildings have been demolished in recent years. The dwelling dates to c. 1890s and measures four bays, rises two stories in height and incorporates balloon frame construction. A one story front porch and a bay window characterize the building. The structural condition of the buildings is fair to poor. The Oursler property appears to be a typical vernacular domestic/agricultural complex of the period. Limited research did not discover any association with significant historical events or people. Architecturally, the complex of buildings is a common property type which does not appear to exhibit distinctive characteristics of types, period or method of construction. The Trust concurred that the property was not eligible for the National Register.

Documentation on the property/district is presented in: Survey Report "Preliminary Evaluation and Determination of Significance for the Griffith S. Oursler Farm, Prince George's Co. MD
